The European Studies Program is happy to be able to award two awards to two outstanding undergraduates in the field of European Studies, as judged by a written essay.

One award will be given to a European Studies major, and the second award will be given to a major in another department within the School of Humanities at UCI

There is no specific prompt. You may submit a paper that was written for a previously taken European Studies course, or for any another course in which the history, art, literature, or philosophy (or contemporary politics) of Europe in general or any particular European country was the topic.
